

Proper Artifact Collections Care and Curation are Essential for All Archaeological Projects

We can help you draft policies and train your museum or visitor center staff to care for artifacts/fossils to be a State-Approved Repository.

Archaeological Collections and Accompanying Data Must Be Made Available for Scholarly Research

Collections must be properly cataloged, analyzed, and reported. Additionally access to the collection must be retrievable and organized.

to the collection must be retrievable and organized.

Most Grant-Funded Projects Require That Artifact Collections Demonstrate a Strong Public Benefit and Be Made Available to The Public Through Museum Display or Other Media

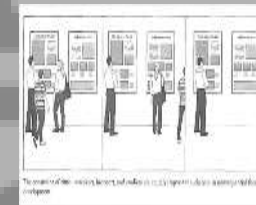

Certified Local Government Grants for Historic Preservation Boards and others such as Colorado's State Historical Fund score projects higher if there is an immediate public educational promotion for that project. A temporary exhibit or a virtual media offering are ideal ways for the community where the archaeological project took place to see the value of those excavations. Colorado's economic benefits study shows the real direct and indirect economic impact of highlighting these resources in terms of heritage tourism.

Why You Need Interpret Site L.L.C.

Many museums, agencies and even archaeology firms overlook the need for proper collections care. Some lack this specialized experience, some are over extended to attain good collections care practice. Interpret Site L.L.C. can help with these shortcomings and train your staff. We also facilitate planning and consensus building within your group for interpretation.

For all Public Media Products/Experiences We Use the Science of Interpretation Planning

Interpret Site L.L.C. plans all media and visitor experiences using the science of interpretation with the key goal of using thematic messages to meet basic audience understandings with the aim to obtain management goals that relate to public behaviors and appreciation.

We Offer Grant Writing for Artifact Collection Preservation

An archaeology collection may have items that need conservation work to better protect the artifacts. Interpret Site L.L.C. can help find grants that assist with needed preservation work. We are happy to assist you with each stage of grant writing and grant management. We can customize our consultation services for your needs

We Collaborate and Seek Input with Descendant Communities

It is paramount that Native or descendant group perspectives be included in public displays and visitor experiences when they involve past Native cultures. Interpret Site L.L.C. will help facilitate creating a more inclusive interpretation for your project. This brings a much more enriching human understanding and appreciation of the past.

Our mission is to provide clients with top quality finished projects for collections care, public exhibition and related management, consultation planning services and products.

Our aim is to achieve maximum public benefit to provide information, knowledge, and insight into the human past while honoring and consulting with descendant communities.

Contact Information

Interpret Site L.L.C.
16081 E Loyola Pl.
Aurora, CO 80013

info@interpret-site.com
303-817-6932

<https://www.interpret-site.com>

Collections Services